Dear Mr. & Mrs. Archer:

By now you have received at least two invoices concerning HOA dues for the 2010 budget year. The majority of your neighbors have either paid their assessments in full or arranged a payment schedule with Lynn Cier, our HOA book keeper.

The CC&R s of our association are very specific about remedies the HOA may employ to collect outstanding assessments including but not limited to assessment liens. Our CC&Rs state: " Each owner vests in the Association or its assigns, the right and power to bring all actions at law or in equity or lien foreclosure against all proper parties for the collection of such delinquent assessments."

This is the last notice you will receive from your HOA. If 2010 assessments and any previous year assessments have not been paid in full or arrangements for installment payments have not been arranged with Lynn Cier by August 31, 2010, the matter will be turned over to the HOA attorney for appropriate legal remedies. The delinquent party will be financially responsible for any attorney, filing, or other reasonable fees incurred in the collection process.

The HOA Board hopes, with your cooperation, to avoid these measures. However, the Board is totally resolved that each lot owner within our association has a contractual obligation to support the financial obligations of the community in which we all reside. Any party that may encourage other members to avoid their obligations neither serves their community nor serves the interests of the members they may seek to influence.
