

County fills seats on boards

Summit County Courthouse officials made appointments to several volunteer committees on Wednesday.

Two people were appointed to serve on the administrative control board for the Snyderville Basin Special Recreation District. Jim Magruder and Dawn Vibert

Bowes were appointed to four-year terms on the board.

Two people were also appointed to serve four-year terms on the administrative control board for the Mountain Regional Water Special Service District. Matt Lindon is a new appointee and Rick Krebs was reappointed to another term.

There were five appointments made Wednesday to the Summit County Fair Board. They included Marla Howard, Farrah Spencer and Nile Hansen. Sterling Banks was appointed to represent the Utah State University Extension Service. Coalville City Councilman Chris Brundy was appointed as a representative for Coalville.